

2nd Vice President Nomination Gregg Anderson

Candidate's brief biographical sketch

Gregg Anderson is a Police Officer with the Carrollton Police Department and has been in law enforcement for 23 years. He has served as a School Resource Officer for 12 years and has been a member of NASRO since 2008. Gregg is a NASRO Practitioner and Instructor, teaching Basic SRO, Advanced SRO, and Adolescent Mental Health Training. Gregg has also served the last five years as the NASRO Region 7 Director and is the Executive Director for the Texas Association of School Resource Officers. In these roles, he has had many opportunities to speak at the Texas State Capitol and with various media outlets.

Candidate's campaign platform

The National Association of School Resource Officers is clearly the “world’s leader in school-based policing” and we need to continue our growth and influence across the nation. NASRO is recognized by the COPS Office as the gold standard in the training of school-based law enforcement, and we need to continue to expand our relationships with state associations to increase our influence at the state level. NASRO needs to also continue its assistance with helping SROs form associations in states without associations and provide needed resources to help them grow and be successful. We also need to expand our reach across the various social media platforms and explore additional ways to assist and provide information to our ever growing member base.
